

The Future and Present of Cybersecurity: Olidata Cybersecurity S.r.l. Is Launched

Rome, March 30, 2026 – Olidata S.p.A., a system integrator leading an Italian IT group listed on Euronext Milan, announces the incorporation on March 18, 2026 of Olidata Cybersecurity S.r.l., a new company headquartered in Rome and dedicated to advanced cybersecurity services.

This transaction marks a further strategic step in the Group’s growth path and strengthens Olidata’s positioning in the cybersecurity market, a rapidly expanding sector that is becoming increasingly critical for businesses, institutions, and mission-critical operations.

Olidata Cybersecurity S.r.l. was established with a clear mission: to build and manage a Next Generation Security Operation Center (SOC) and to provide Managed Security services to companies of all sizes, with an approach designed to meet current needs while supporting the market’s future evolution.

The company aims to become a benchmark in the design, development, and commercialization of software security solutions, both in on-site and cloud environments, integrating its offering with IT outsourcing, monitoring, and operational control services.

Its governance structure includes a Board of Directors chaired by Cristiano Rufini, already Chairman of Olidata S.p.A., alongside board members Pierre Levy and Giuseppe Di Fuccia.

The shareholder structure reflects the partnership behind the project: Olidata S.p.A. holds 70% of the share capital, while the remaining 30% is held by Cyber Capital Alliance S.r.l., a company attributable to Pierre Levy, former CEO of Atlantica Digital S.p.A.

Olidata Cybersecurity S.r.l. will also take over the business activities of Atlantica Cybersecurity S.r.l., a company already active in the market with an advanced SOC and clients in Italy, Europe, and the Middle East.

“Today, cybersecurity is a prerequisite for development: without protection, there can be no innovation, trust, or continuity. Olidata Cybersecurity was created to provide a concrete national response to a risk that has now become structural” said Cristiano Rufini, Chairman of Olidata S.p.A. and Olidata Cybersecurity S.r.l.

“I am honored and pleased to bring Atlantica Digital’s expertise into Olidata, within a strong group in the technology market, with the goal of contributing to the growth of security and resilience for companies,” said Pierre Levy.
